Because they have merely waived their standardized exam submission rules for a part of one cycle, FairTest is not adding schools that have temporarily suspended ACT/SAT requirements ONLY for applicants seeking to enroll in summer and fall 2020 (largely this year's high school seniors) to our popular list of test optional institutions (https://fairtest.org/university/optional). Though colleges and universities announcing 2020 testing waivers merit praise for their response to the admissions testing disruptions caused by coronavirus, and some may ultimately decide to make the change permanent, they are not truly test-optional, at least not yet.

Adelphi College (New York)
Alabama State University
Albion College (Michigan)
Alma College (Michigan) – previously test-optional only for applicants with HSGPA of 2.75 or higher
Bismarck State College (South Dakota)
Cottey College (Missouri)
Franklin College (Indiana)
Indiana University Southeast (other Indiana University campuses are test-optional)
Indiana Wesleyan University (Indiana)
Iowa Wesleyan University (Iowa)
Kent State University (Ohio)
Limestone College (South Carolina)
Lock Haven University (New York)
Longwood University (Virginia)
Mansfield University (Pennsylvania)
McMurry University (Tennessee)
Mercer University (New Jersey)
Midway University (Kentucky)
Millersville University (Pennsylvania – previously test-optional only for local applicants)
Newberry College (South Carolina)
Northern Kentucky University
Saint Vincent College (Pennsylvania)
St. Thomas Aquinas College (New York)
St. Thomas University (Florida)
Schreiner University (Texas)
Southwest Baptist University (Missouri)
University of Akron (Ohio)
University of Alaska Fairbanks
University of Dayton (Ohio)
University of Mount Union (Ohio)
University of Nevada – Las Vegas
University of Nevada – Reno
University of North Dakota – Grand Forks
University System of Georgia (all public campuses except Georgia Tech and UGa)
University of Virginia – Wise
Washington State University Vancouver
Westminster College (Pennsylvania)
Winthrop University (South Carolina)

Please send additions, corrections and comments to bobschaeffer@fairtest.org