
Failing Our Children

• How “No Child Left Behind”
Undermines Quality and Equity in Education

• An Accountability Model That
Supports School Improvement

by Monty Neill, Lisa Guisbond and Bob Schaeffer
with James Madden and Life Legeros
May 2004

FairTest

The National Center for Fair and Open Testing

Failing Our Children

• How “No Child Left Behind”
Undermines Quality and Equity in Education

• An Accountability Model That
Supports School Improvement

by Monty Neill, Ed.D., Lisa Guisbond and Bob Schaeffer
with James Madden and Life Legeros
May 2004
$30

FairTest

The National Center for Fair and Open Testing

FairTest: The National Center for Fair & Open Testing
342 Broadway
Cambridge, MA 02139
(617) 864 - 4810; fax (617) 497-2224
www.fairtest.org
email: info@fairtest.org

Thank you to the Joyce Foundation for grant support in the preparation of this report, and to FairTest's many friends and donors who make our work possible. None are responsible for the contents of this report.

Table of Contents

Executive Summary	ES-1
Introduction. No Child Left Behind Testing and Sanctions Provisions	i
Chapter I. Set Up to Fail	1
Appendix 1. Jeb’s A+ Schools Dubbed Failing by George	23
Appendix 2. When AYP Means Good Schools Are Called Bad	24
Chapter II. Testing: What’s the Problem with ‘No Child Left Untested’?	35
Chapter III. False Promises & Flawed Policies: Navigating the NCLB Maze	83
Chapter IV. Money, Education and Accountability	120
Chapter V. Organizing for Change Amid Growing Opposition to NCLB	131
Appendix 1. What’s in a Name? “Renaming” NCLB	143
Chapter VI. Authentic Accountability	146

Tables and Charts

Table I - 1. Data on Schools Not Making Adequate Yearly Progress (AYP)	30
Table I - 2. State AYP Starting Points	32
Table I - 3. State Cell Sizes: Minimum Number of Students to Be in a Cell	33
Chart I - 1. Cell Sizes: Number of States Selecting Given Cell Size	34
Table II - 1. State Tests Projected for 2014.	82
Table II - 2. State Tests to Be Added by 2014	82

© 2004 FairTest.

Permission is given to reproduce this document, or portions of it, except that permission must be sought for commercial use of content from this publication, when the material quoted is used in advertising, or when charges for copies beyond the cost of reproduction are made.